The Transatlantic Stars Film Program

MAY 25 – JUNE 7, 2026

Building Community and Collaboration Through the Arts

Deadline for application 16/1.

The Transatlantic Stars Film Program invites EU filmmakers to take part in a two-week immersion into the American film industry. Selected directors will experience a focused, high-level introduction to the U.S. film landscape, with opportunities to present their work, connect with established professionals, and gain firsthand insight into how filmmakers create, collaborate, and build their practice with insights gained from the United States.

The program will begin at the Berkshire International Film Festival, where filmmakers will take part in its exclusive filmmaker summit that builds lasting community between filmmakers and industry professionals. Directors will also screen their films as part of a European Filmmakers Showcase at the festival.

The cohort will then travel to Los Angeles for a five-day capstone immersion that connects directors with leaders in the American film industry who are eager to collaborate with EU filmmakers through targeted meetings, mentorship, and a personalised career session designed to support their next steps.

The two-week program culminates in Washington, D.C., where participants will join fellow Transatlantic Stars from the visual arts and music programs for a public summit showcasing the work and perspectives developed during their time in the United States.
